

ROMULUS DEDICATES ITS MUNICIPAL BUILDING AND LIBRARY — Formal ceremonies dedicating the new air-conditioned Municipal Building and Library to the citizens and residents of the City of Romulus were held Sunday. The milestone event attracted more than 250 persons, including government officials from state, county and surrounding communities as well as the members of Romulus City Council and city department heads. A portion of the audience that participated in the dedication is shown in the photo on the left. Judge James B. Stone of the 34th District Court, Romulus, State Rep. Edward E. Mahalak, James E. Davey, managing director of the Wayne County Road Commission, John N. construction of the municipal complex. Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael (center) welcomed the officials and guests and congratulated all who had a part in making the city's dream of a new municipal building become a reality. The two new buildings, the first of four to be embraced in the city's Municipal Complex, are located on a section of a 16-acre plot of city-owned land on the southeast corner of S. Wayne and Goddard roads. The buildings were financed by a bond issue amounting to $1,975,000 issued by the Romulus Building Authority, which will operate the complex until the bonds are paid off in full with rental revenues. The city will eventually take over ownership of the buildings.

Dedication marks a milestone

By HENRY CANTIN

A new milestone in the history and progress of Western Wayne County's thirty-third and newest city - Romulus - occurred Sunday afternoon.

The historical event was the dedication ceremonies of Romulus' new $2 million Municipal Building and Library.

More than 250 persons, including high ranking government officials from Washington D.C., Michigan and area communities, along with the City Council, administrative heads and department chiefs of Romulus participated in the dedication festivities.

The Municipal Building and Library are located on a portion of a 16-acre city-owned tract at the southeast corner of S. Wayne Goddard roads.

The threat of rain did not dampen the spirit of the occasion or cause early departures.

Among the notables attending the dedication were U.S.

Congressman William D. Ford, State Sen. William Faust, Wayne County Undersheriff Loren Pittman, Mayor Royce E. Smith of Belleville, Sumpter Township Supervisor Elmer Parraghi, Judge James B. Stone of the 34th District Court, Romulus, State Rep. Edward E. Mahalak, James E. Davey, managing director of the Wayne County Road Commission, John N. Sabo Jr., Wayne County Commissioner from the 24th district and Robert L. McConaghy, Superintendent of Romulus Schools.

Many from the Romulus community as well as adjacent communities' prominent leaders also were in attendance.

Judge Stone served as master of ceremonies. The Romulus Senior High School Band, under the direction of Gideon Pettway, presented several musical selections.

The invocation was read by Rev. William Quiney, pastor of the Church of Christ, Romulus. He voiced thanks and gratitude in behalf of the city and those present for the progress the young city has made and asked for continuing guidance for the future development and growth of Romulus.

Congressman Ford, who was born and raised in nearby Taylor, said, "These building are symbolic of the progress the people of Romulus have made. I am proud to be a part of the dedication of these fine facilities. You are growing more rapidly than your neighbors. Your city fathers and the people of Romulus are to be congratulated for the orderly growth of the community."

Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael of Romulus, in his brief dedication address, said that "It is indeed a pleasure to be part of the city to see the new city hall and library. We do appreciate you people for this accomplishment and all the dignitaries joining with us in dedicating this beautiful complex."

Councilman President Jimmie Raspberry said the dedication was symbolic of the progress made by the city. He added that his goal is making the city a clean and law abiding city."

He introduced his colleagues on the council along with their wives.

The dedication ceremonies marked the opening of a week-long open house at both buildings. The hours are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The library will be opened during the same hours. Tours of the new air-conditioned buildings are available during those times.

Among the highlights of the festivities were the presentations of appreciation plaques to two city officials.

Charles C. Hellman, a member of Wade, Trim & Associates of Taylor, city engineers, received one in recognition of "his outstanding service in furtherance of the industrial area of the city and other related work."

Fire Chief Joseph Crova received an appreciation plaque in recognition of his "long dedicated service to the city over the last 29 years as a member of the fire department." Mayor Carmichael and Raspberry made the presentations.

Ramada Inn again fails to get license approval

By HENRY CANTIN

A request made by the new Ramada Inn of Romulus for a Class C license (liquor by the glass) failed to receive affirmative action by Romulus City Council.

The city council by a roll call vote of 4-3 defeated a motion which was re-introduced by Councilman William M. Oakley at last week's council session to grant Ramada Inn the license.

Councilman who voted for the license besides Oakley were Fred Junior Block and James C. Stewart, who supported Oakley's motion.

Voting against granting the license were Council President Jimmie Raspberry, Ellis T. Pennington, Edmund W. Bizek and Brooker R. Edwards.

The councilmen opposing the motion "at this time" declared they wanted to make a complete review and investigation of other applicants who have requested Class C licenses. There are 57 applications on file.

The matter of issuing one of six available Class C licenses to Ramada Inn has been a matter of discussion at the last two sessions of the City Council.

At an earlier council meeting, Oakley made a motion to grant the license to Ramada Inn. This motion was immediately tabled by one made by Councilman Pennington, who stated the council should review pending license applications. His colleagues agreed.

William Moshier, counsel for Ramada Inn and its representatives pleaded for a "yes" or "no" decision at the Aug. 24 session of the council, pointing out the importance of such a license in the operation of the $4 million inn.

Moshier disclosed that if the council's decision was adverse, Ramada Inn had received approval from the Michigan Liquor Control Commission on a proposed transfer of a Resort Tavern (10-month license) to a Class B Hotel (12-month license) from a business located in Green Oak Township, Livingston County.

The City Council must approve the transfer and waive transfer fees that already have been distributed to Green Oak Township.

When the motion to grant the license was defeated, Moshier requested the council to act on the transfer request, pointing out it would not affect the status of the six licenses and that he had a communication to that effect from the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

Council President Jimmie Raspberry said the transfer matter was not on the agenda and that a legal opinion would have to be obtained from the city attorney on the question of whether granting the transfer would deduct from the six licenses. He said the matter could be presented at a later council session.

It was learned after the council meeting that the city attorney had presented the council with an opinion stating that the transfer of the resort license to Ramada Inn would have no bearing on the six new licenses allotted to Romulus by the State Liquor Control Commission.

Attorneys for the Ramada Inn announced they would make a request for council approval of the transfer at the (Continued on Page 3)

McGINNIS HOME GETS NEW COAT OF PAINT — Members of the Belleville Rotary Club, armed with paint brushes and gallons of paint, made a surprise visit Saturday to the home of Mrs. Eva McGinnis, 29, of 39820 Huron River Dr., Van Buren Township, and began painting her home. Mrs.

McGinnis has cancer and doctors say she hasn't long to live. Friends, neighbors and residents from surrounding communities have been going all-out in efforts to assist Mrs. McGinnis, her husband and their six children. (See story on page 2.)

Hospital authority officials refute discrepancy charges

By JOE CHAREST

Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) officials refuted in no uncertain terms Friday charges concerning major discrepancies between the consolidated audits of the Authority and the audits of the four PCHA hospitals.

In an article published last week, it was stated that study had disclosed an apparent discrepancy between the consolidated and separate audits in several entries. They were: travel and related expense, committee and other meeting expense, public relations and education, convention expense executive director's expense and miscellaneous.

A check of the totals from the hospitals indicated the figures were higher in the individual audits than the combined figure in the consolidated.

E.J. Mathia, PCHA controller for more than 13 years, explained that figures in the consolidated budget were in no way meant to represent a sum total from the four hospitals.

"In order to maintain full coverage from Blue Cross," Mathia said, "the cost of the administrative offices is allocated to the four hospitals, divided between them on the basis of size."

"People often are under the mistaken impression that the totals of the four hospitals are added together and reflected in the consolidated statement. This is simply not the case."

The opposite is true. Because of the fact that many services in the Authority are centralized, an arrangement which saves money, the total cost of Central Office services is indicated in the consolidated budget and then allocated to the four units.

Totals from the four units are larger because they add on to their allocation the money they spend separately under such items.

For example, the Central Office operating expenses for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1970, totalled $355,335. This total was divided as follows: Annapolis: $106,536; Beyer Memorial Hospital, $60,561; Outer Drive Hospital; $106,536; and Seaway Hospital; $81,702.

More specifically, the consolidated audit indicates a Central Office expenditure of $13,985 for public relations and expenses.

A total from the audits of the four hospitals, however, indicates an expenditure for public relations of $14,465, which means that the individual units spent an additional $480 in this area.

According to Mathia's explanation, this $480 is not hidden anywhere else in the consolidated budget. It is simply not included.

Basically, as far as operating expenses go then, the consolidated audit indicates what was spent on a particular item through the Central Office, while a total of the audits of the four hospitals would indicate the amount spent on any item by the entire hospital system.

The PCHA officials also explained that there has been no change in auditing procedures as a result of the state investigation.

The auditing firm of White, Bower and Prevo merged with the present Arthur Young and Company in the mid-60s, with the result that the audits from 1966 to the present bear the name of Arthur Young.

Unfair labor charge filed against Romulus

An unfair labor charge has been filed against the City of Romulus by Local 214 of the Teamsters State, County & Municipal Workers.

Jack Valenti, president of the local, announced that the complaint against the city was filed Sept. 13 with the Michigan Employment Relations Commission.

The complaint has been assigned to James Kurtz of the commission and a hearing on the charge is scheduled for 10 a.m. Oct. 11 in the State Labor Building, located at Woodward Avenue and East Grand Boulevard, Detroit.

The complaint is based on an alleged refusal of the city to negotiate the economic portions and to complete bargaining on the non-economic issues of a proposed employment contract covering 55 to 60 city employees.

Following receipt of the union's action, Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael scheduled a session this week with council members and negotiating teams.

Valenti reported that Local 214 submitted counter-proposals to a contract offer submitted by the City Council. The city's offer was termed inadequate by the union.

The present employment contract expired April 19.

The union, Valenti stated, has compiled comparisons of wages for Romulus employees with to those received by workers in other Detroit suburbs with income comparable to Romulus.

In compiling a comparison of such cities, the union has come up with some wage averages to use as bargaining guidelines.

The averages presented to Mayor Carmichael in July, were put together using figures from the five communities in which the union has recently completed negotiations. They are Sterling Heights, Redford Township, Madison Heights, Birmingham and Hazel Park.

The subcommittee appointed by the City Council is "seriously challenged by the union, as to authority to negotiate," Valenti reported.

A tentative agreement on non-economic issues was reached in July. "We have been treated with apparent stalling tactics by the city," Valenti said.

"Dan Gallagher of the State Medication Board assigned to negotiations has directed the city to present its counter proposals on the non-economic issues, then on the economic issues, by a Sept. 9 deadline. Today we are still waiting," he added.

"If the city negotiates a completion of a working contract for city employees we will drop the unfair labor charge," Valenti said.

Generous friends continue to aid family

By BEVERLY McANALLY

The past two week-ends have found Van Buren and Belleville groups busy with events to assist the Arnold McGinnis family.

Mrs. Eva McGinnis 29, according to doctors has incurable cancer. The family which includes six daughters between four and 13 years old, had struggled to meet its obligations during the more than two years since Eva's condition was diagnosed. In fact, until this past spring, when she had surgery for a gall stone, Eva was hopeful that she might beat the odds against recovery.

Since spring, however, her condition deteriorated. She lost nearly 70 pounds, was unable to eat and suffered intense pain, while family members denied themselves in order to meet mounting expenses.

A neighbor, Rick Franz, brought the family's plight to the attention of the community. Subsequently, bank accounts were established at National Bank of Detroit, Belleville, and Manufacturer's National Bank, Romulus, where sympathetic townspeople have contributed more than $1,000 to assist the family. Other help has included a prescription fund, appliances and furnishings for the home.

Two week-ends ago a rummage sale was held at the Flea Market on Huron River Drive which raised more than $200 for the Belleville fund, earmarked for house payments. "We've got enough to last through February's payment," said Mrs. Julia Sawmiller, chairman for the Belleville project.

"People were just great. They donated two truckloads of things. Mr. McGinnis helped us load and get everything out to the Flea Market and Eva even came by for a few minutes on Saturday," Mrs. Sawmiller said.

This past Saturday saw the Belleville Rotary Club living up to its motto, "Service Before Self," when about a dozen club members painted the McGinnis' cinder block home.

Bud Brown had proposed the project, which met with enthusiastic support from the executive board and membership. Hamilton's Hardware donated the paint, club members, the manpower.

Eva first heard of the project when her husband woke her early Saturday morning with the excited announcement, "Eva, Eva, wake up! There's about 15 cars out there and they're getting ready to paint the house." There had been some casual discussion about the matter, McGinnis recalls, but he said, "When somebody tells you they're coming out someday and paint your house, you don't quite believe them."

Before the morning was over Rotary members Art Harvey, John Dudick, Dean Payne, Harrold Harris, Floyd Griffith, Bob Gray, Justin Emerson, Sam LoPresto, Elton Gollwitzer, Ray Kohr and Ken Miller not only had painted the house but also had poured new front steps.

During the morning, Mrs. Jeanette Brown fortified the group with coffee and doughnuts and everyone, including the McGinnises, had a good time getting the job done.

The family is overwhelmed at all the help it's received. "I really didn't know there were that many good people left in the world," Eva said. "Just think. All those important people out there painting my house. You know, I believe I feel better, too. Some days I even get up and help fix supper."

While feeling "better" is a long way from feeling well, Eva has every reason to believe in miracles.

Council adopts ordinance to control trash, litter

An ordinance to prohibit the depositing and accumulation of trash, garbage and litter within the City of Romulus has been adopted by the Romulus City Council.

The new ordinance becomes effective 30 days after its publication elsewhere in this edition.

Violating provisions of the ordinance is deemed a misdemeanor and upon conviction violators can be fined up to $500 and jailed up to 90 days, or both.

In approving the ordinance, the council reported that it feels "the rules and regulations of the ordinance to be in the best interest of the citizens of the city to provide for their health, safety and well being by the regulation and control of trash, litter and unkempt property within the city."

Councilman Ellis T. Pennington made the motion to approve the ordinance introduced by Council President Jimmie Raspberry. He was supported by Councilman Edmund W. Bizek.

An amendment to the ordinance was accepted to defer the effective date to 30 days after publication in order to permit residents to comply with it.

GIVING A HELPING HAND — The home of Mrs. Eva McGinnis, 29, a cancer patient who doctors report hasn't long to live, was badly in need of a paint job. On Saturday members of the Belleville Rotary Club went to her home at 39820 Huron River Dr., Van Buren Township, and began to repair and paint

Van Buren police thanked

Letters of appreciation to the Van Buren Township Police Department for services and assistance at the recent Wayne County 4-H Fair were received by the Township Board recently.

The communications thanking and commending the police officers were submitted by Donald D. Juchartz, Wayne County extension director, and Mrs. Norma Tyler of 6080 Haggerty Rd., Belleville.

The fair was held Aug. 17-22 at the Wayne County 4-H Fairgrounds, Quirk Road, near Belleville.

Reducing club meets Tuesdays

The High-Low chapter of the Buxom Belles is meeting again on Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m. at Cory Elementary School, 35200 Smith Rd. announced Mrs. Chris Benton, club president.

Its purpose, Mrs. Benton said, hasn't changed. "We're still trying to get rid of unwanted and unsightly weight. There's no magic way to lose, but we're starting a weekly slimnastics program that should help."

Mrs. Benton invited any lady who is concerned about her weight to come to Cory and observe a meeting. "I hope no one who needs us will stay away because they think they are too heavy and are embarrassed. Many of us have 50 and 60 pounds to lose and our weights go over 200 pounds when we start."

Mrs. Benton said sometimes it takes a couple of years to lose the amount a lady sets as her goal when she joins the club, but when she achieves her ideal weight there is a celebration and rewards.

Three members will be honored for achieving their goals. Mrs. Rose Gillis, Mrs. Joan Block and Mrs. Clara Britton will be specially recognized at a buffet dinner on Oct. 5, at Rogalles Lounge, Haggerty Road and I-94 expressway.

Doctor begins Romulus clinic after his eviction from Wayne

Dr. Clarence J. Carpenter, who was evicted by the City of Wayne from his partially completed industrial medical clinic, located at Michigan Avenue and Second Street, Wayne, has started a new medical facility in the City of Romulus.

The Romulus Building Department has issued the veteran physician a building permit for the construction of his new medical clinic, which is now underway on the south side of Van Born Road, between Wayne and Cogswell Roads.

The present construction work is the initial phase of his planned medical clinic. It has an estimated construction cost of $41,000. The initial building has a frontage of 60 feet and will be a one-story building. The new facility is to be tapped to the Wayne water system until other water facilities are made available to the doctor by the City of Romulus.

Dr. Carpenter, who resides at 37545 Van Born Rd., Romulus, is constructing the hospital on his Van Born Road property.

The City of Wayne instituted a court suit to regain Dr. Carpenter's property because of "failure" to live up to an urban renewal contract.

Dr. Carpenter purchased an L-shaped parcel of land at the intersection during the summer of 1965 and began development of his two-story medical facility.

Work on the clinic stopped in 1968 with only one story completed. Dr. Carpenter occupied part of the building until his eviction in May of this year.

The new and first phase of the Romulus industrial clinic will have 16 rooms—x-ray rooms, treatment rooms and operating rooms as well as offices. It will operate seven days a week, 24 hours a day.

Consumers council forges ahead in 1971

The Michigan Consumers Council reports that it helped recover nearly as much money for the consumer during the first six months of this year as it did for the entire year of 1970.

A total of $24,020 for 537 complaints was recovered through the efforts of the complaint unit during the first half of 1971 as compared to $29,744 for 611 complaints during all of last year, according to Professor William Morrison, Council Chairman.

The complaints received by the Consumers Council range from new car problems, mobile home defects and erroneous billing, to problems with correspondence schools, repairmen, and insurance adjusters.

One young man even came to the council for help in keeping his Playboy subscription—he had a cancelled check showing payment but the computer kept billing him, threatening to stop the magazines.

Professor Morrison reports that of the 537 complaints filed with the council during the first half of this year, 24 per cent involved automobile and parts, snowmobiles and auto financing. Second in line is mobile homes, making up 10 per cent of the total.

So far this year the record shows 34 per cent of the complaints adjusted to the consumer's satisfaction, 34 per cent pending investigation, 16 per cent not adjusted, 9 per cent withdrawn, 5 per cent unjustified, and 2 per cent referred to other agencies.

PCHA officials refute charges

with White, Bower and Prevo, had been handling the Authority audits since 1955.

The merger of these two auditing firms was coincidental with the firing of former Executive Director Kenneth W. Gremore, who was ousted by the Board of Directors in 1965 and whose handling of finances was thoroughly investigated by the State Attorney General.

Among the most damaging disclosures against Gremore at that time were his handling of expense accounts in the areas now under discussion and his expenditures for lobbying.

The article in the newspaper last week noted there was a marked decline in expenditures indicated under several headings.

Mathia reiterated that these figures reflect similar auditing procedures over the years and they were not changed, which means that in certain areas the Authority is now spending considerably less money than it did during Gremore's tenure.

During the Gremore years, for instance, records show expenditures in the 1960s went as high as $4,780 in 1964 in the consolidated budget under the heading Travel and Related Expenses, while, since Gremore's ouster, the top amount spent was $1,919 (in 1967). None of the figures under this item for the years 1966 through 1971, except the $1,919 just mentioned, exceeds the lowest amount spent during the first half of the decade, which was $1,766 in 1961.

Under the heading of community relations, audits show expenditures for both halves of the decade to be substantially in the same range.

However, Mathia said, present expenditures are for a professionally-run community relations program. Whereas those figures from the Gremore years are indicative of some lobbying expenses incurred, including bills from various bars, and also at $250 per month allowance Gremore received through board authorization to be used for such purposes. This allowance no longer exists.

Totals for seven items during the last decade are significant in showing expenditure reduction. The items are travel and related expenses, committee and other meetings, community relations, convention expenses, board meeting expenses and executive director's expense.

Totals for these seven areas are as follows:
During the last five years of Gremore's tenure: 1961, $26,042; 1962, $37,505; 1963, $51,062; 1964, $57,025 1965, $54,593.
During the years 1966 through 1971, respectively, the figures are $14,042, $17,931, $25,480, $25,195, $23,750, and $32,279.

During the last five years under Gremore, the Authority spent over $326,000 on these seven items. In the past five years the Authority has spent in the neighborhood of $135,000.

Mathia indicated that in recent years the Authority has been able to set aside enough money to cover all operating costs for the next month, which he says is a tribute to the financial condition of the Authority and which was not always possible in the past.

In addition, he said that the 1971 audit, which was presented to the Finance Committee last Wednesday and will be available at the regular board meeting Sept. 30, will show that the PCHA is in the best financial shape in its 26-year history.

Film of Baha'i faith be seen in Romulus

A public showing of "It's Just the Beginning," a color documentary film about the Baha'i Faith will be held at the Action Center on Beverly Road at 8 p.m. on Sept. 25.

The premiere showing is sponsored by the Baha'i Community of Romulus. There is no admission charge. "It's Just the Beginning" tackles the problems of peace, unity and justice in the world as viewed by Baha'i youth representing different races and strata of society.

The film was made during a recent National Baha'i Youth Conference which was attended by over 2,000 youth from across the United States and from several foreign nations.

In the film the black, white, American Indian, and Spanish-speaking youth tell of the many problems bothering them today and how the Baha'i Faith provides solutions. Why this, the youngest of the world's religions, is attracting youth world-wide is also shown.

The film was produced by Kiva Films of New York City which has also produced films for award-winning television series "Sesame Street". The Baha'i Faith is considered by some as the fastest spreading religion in the world today. It originated in Iran (then Persia) in 1844.

Two buildings are dedicated

Officials of the former Romulus Township were introduced by City Treasurer Albert Glinksi.

Among former Romulus Township supervisors at the dedication were Ernest J. Fulford, Edmund Bizek and Roderick E. Smith. Terry L. Troutt was ill and could not attend.

Members of the City Building Authority responsible for the construction of the two facilities and for arranging the $1,975,000 bond issue to finance the buildings were introduced by Mayor Carmichael.

They are Howard Dubisky, chairman; Edmund Galazka, treasurer; Leo M. Kalota, secretary, and former member Edward L. Stewart.

The Municipal Complex will be operated by the City Building Authority until the bond issue purchased by the Manufacturers National Bank is paid off through rental revenues.

When the bond issue is retired, the buildings will be turned over to the city.

Kalota, second vice president of the Romulus branch of the Manufacturers National Bank, detailed the steps taken in preparing the plaques presented to city fathers by the bank. The plaques will be hung permanently in the new structures.

He stated the buildings are dedicated to the people of Romulus and to no group of officials.

The Stars and Stripes were presented to the city by VFW Post 9568 of Romulus. The Romulus Jaycees presented an American flag to Mayor Carmichael for the mayor's offices and a state flag to the city.

A city flag ordered by the Jaycees had not arrived for the presentation.

Rev. Lawrence Umfleet, pastor of the Westland Methodist Church of Romulus, gave the prayer of dedication.

Following the hour-long dedication ceremony, officials and residents proceeded to the community center room in the basement of the Municipal Building for refreshments.

The community room displayed a pictorial report of city operations as well as other exhibits of community activity, including a display of the Romulus Roman, the city's official newspaper.

Printing bids are rejected

The Romulus City Council has ordered a re-advertising for bids on city printing.

Bids received and opened at the Sept. 16 meeting of city council were rejected by the council.

Some of the bids received did not meet with specifications and instructions.

Water, sewer extensions to proceed in Romulus

A contract for the construction of Phase Two of Romulus' 1971 water and sanitary sewer extensions program has been awarded to the Oak Park Excavating Co. of 21410 Coolidge, Oak Park, by the Romulus City Council.

The bid of $628,947 submitted by the firm was the lowest of 15 bids received by the city, Charles C. Hellman of Wade, Trim & Associates of Taylor, consulting engineers for the city, announced.

The bids were opened at the Sept. 16 meeting of the City Council.

The highest bid in the amount of $931,223 was submitted by the DiLegge Construction Co., Romulus.

The construction for Phase One of the city's water and sanitary sewer extensions was awarded in August to the Two-Way Construction Co. of Mt. Clemens in the amount of $558,920.

Construction, Hellman reported, will start within a few days after the pre-start meeting.

Plans and specifications for Phase Three of the 1971 water and sanitary sewer extension program are in the hands of prospective bidders and will be received Sept. 28, Hellman stated.

The sanitary sewer extensions included in Phase Two are: Cogswell Road from Tyler Road to Ecorse Road, Goddard Road, North Line Road from Wahrman Road to Huron River Drive and Huron River Drive (east side) north of Eureka Road.

Jones Street from Ozga Road to Goddard Road, Gabriel Street from Grant Road to Goddard Road, Grover Street between Grant Road and

The Phase Two water line extensions are: Pennsylvania Road from Wahrman to Huron River Drive and Wahrman Road from Pennsylvania Road to the existing main, North Line Road from Wahrman Road to Huron River Drive, Hannan Road from existing main north of Chase Road to Tyler Road and Tyler Road from Hannan Road to Cogswell Road.

County government faces drastic change

By WILLIAM FAUST
State Senator 13th District

County government is changing drastically in Michigan. Historically, it has been viewed as the stepchild of other governmental units — particularly the state. For many voters, county government has been uninteresting and in some cases, almost meaningless.

Only a few years ago, however, county government underwent what was probably the most significant change in its history: appointed boards of county "supervisors" were replaced by smaller boards of elected county commissioners. And now, county government may experience yet another critical change. Legislation, recently introduced in the Senate, would provide counties with optional forms of government, headed by either an appointed county manager or an elected county executive officer.

Incorporating recommendations made earlier this year to the Wayne County Board of Commissioners by the Michigan Citizens Research Council, the bill defines the duties of county commissioners, the manager or executive and various departments which would operate under them.

Most importantly, the bill gives to counties the right of self-determination, for they would be able to adopt either form of optional government by majority vote.

The appointed manager form of government would become effective 180 days after approval by commissioners.

If commissioners approved an elected executive form, the issue would be submitted to the voters for ratification or rejection. Adoption of either form of government could also be initiated by voters through a petition drive. To put the issue on the ballot, petitions would have to contain signatures totaling at least 10 per cent of the persons voting in the previous gubernatorial contest.

The offices of county commissioner, sheriff, treasurer, clerk and register of deeds could be retained. All other offices would be abolished.

All appointed boards would also be abolished except for the apportionment commission, airport zoning board of appeals, board of county canvassers, boards of determination for drainage districts, civil service commission, county drainage board, concealed weapons licensing board, election commission, jury commission, social services board, tax allocation board, retirement boards or commissions, any joint mental health board or inter-county drainage board and building authority.

Certain departments would be established. These include administrative services, finances, planning and development, public safety, corrections, corporation counsel and parks and recreation.

Other departments which would be established through adoption of an optional form of government are personnel and employee relations, health and environmental protection, library, public works and institutional and human services.

The functions of both the manager and executive form of government correspond roughly to those of the city manager and mayor in local government.

The county manager would be the head administrator for the county government and responsible for the overall supervision of all county departments and responsible to an elected official.

As chief administrator of the county, the manager could be empowered to make investigations, appoint staff, adopt a comprehensive plan for county development, designate the department to exercise certain powers, adopt an administrative code, consolidate county departments, enter into agreements with other units of government and accept gifts and grants from public and private sectors.

If the county adopts an elected officer form of government, he would be elected in a partisan election. In addition to the powers of the manager, the elected officer could veto commissioners actions, much as the governor may veto the legislature or a mayor may veto certain actions of a city council.

Commissioners would have the power to establish policies to be followed by the county government, adopt ordinances and rules, establish committees, adopt the annual budget, make appropriations, levy taxes, establish the number of employees and officers of any department, set the salaries of elected officials, adopt a classification and salary plan for all positions in the county, adopt personnel rules, fix bonds for county officers and employees, create advisory board and set appropriations for it, appoint members of various boards and commissions.

In any event, the people may soon be able to decide for themselves which form of county government is most suitable to their needs. That ability, in itself, should prove to be significant.

In our opinion

PCHA does good job, needs more support

Just like an old-time movie, where the guys in the white hats have almost insurmountable obstacles to rise above, the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) start its battles the undeniable underdog.

It is sad but true that, in a controversy of any proportion, those facing charges are often considered guilty until proven innocent. We think this is the way human nature reads the press.

We are quite sure that publicity involving the hospital authority during the past six months has left a lurking suspicion in many minds — or at least nagging doubt as to the efficiency of the Authority.

Yet, we feel that, for the greater part, we have lived up to our journalistic ethics in telling the continuing PCHA story.

Where does the just answer to the problem of bad publicity lie? Reporting controversies which carry with them a negative overview of the hospital system coincidentally lowers the esteem in which the Authority is held by the public.

Failing to report the dissension and continuing trouble within the board of directors, on the other hand, is a disservice to the taxpayers who help support the operation and have a very definite right to know.

Therefore, hospital officials and the press alike are left with a dilemma. We think that readers are left with a great responsibility to look beyond impressions gathered from random news reports and form an opinion of the Authority based upon the total factual picture presented.

The press and hospital officials are solving their problem by being, on one side, increasingly more careful to present both views during any controversy and, on the other, increasingly unafraid to discuss publicly any controversy.

The Peoples Community Hospital Authority is growing stronger every year, having a budget this year of $32 million, be far greater financial assets than any governmental body which it serves.

But strong as it is financially, the authority is sorely threatened from within.

We think it is incumbent upon the community leaders, whose constituency supports PCHA, to take a very close look at what is happening within the Authority and use their influence to help dispell the factionalism which is threatening it.

We feel that the Authority deserves local endorsement by virtue of the fact that it continues to provide quality medical care at a cost equal to or below most hospitals in the metropolitan area.

We have editorially supported PCHA in the past and, at this point, see no reason why we won't in the future. We think PCHA hospitals are doing a good job.

We can only hope that we will be joined in this support by leaders and residents who realize the usefulness of PCHA to the communities it serves.

Vocational education expanding its role

Vocational education has been very much in the news lately with the opening of the new vocational building formerly known as the Hennell's property.

We have a tendency to think of vocational education as training for employment in the machine shops, auto body shops and so forth. However, vocational education encompasses all types of training for a vocation.

Belleville High School has been involved in vocational training for a number of years in the home economics, office and distributive fields in addition to the more recent addition of the trade and industrial program.

By DEAN PAYNE
Director of Cooperative Education Program, Van Buren Public Schools

The business department has been preparing students for occupations in the business field long before the term "vocational education" became popular.

The present offerings of the business department include 18 different courses. All but three of these classes have a vocational objective. Students may receive training in two employment areas, secretarial or office work and distributive education.

A student planning for a career in secretarial or office occupations may select from classes in general business, typewriting I and II, shorthand I and II, bookkeeping, commercial law, office practice, and business english and data processing.

Students that desire practical on-the-job experience would also enroll in the office cooperative occupational training program including the office co-op related class.

Students planning for careers in the field of distribution or retailing would enroll in general business, business arithmetic, retail Merchandising, salesmanship, marketing and D.E. cooperative occupational training.

In addition to preparing for careers in the business field, classes are also available for personal use such as personal typing, consumer education, and business arithmetic.

Local businessmen play a very large role in the vocational preparation of business students by providing opportunities for the students to apply their skills through on-the-job training. They have provided training stations for co-op students for the past five years and their assistance is greatly appreciated.

The signature of the governor has converted almost a dozen bills into public acts of the state. Included was the first budget bill which makes appropriations from restricted funds for veterans' organizations. The bill lists $966,400 in grants.

One of the other bills makes it possible for the state to financially aid persons who are displaced when their property is acquired by the state. The state can either match federal relocation funds or provide direct aid if no federal money is available.

Another bill sets probate judges' salaries at $20,000 a year. Three-fourths of this is paid by the state, the rest by the counties.

Still another new law reduces the required time for publishing foreclosures proceedings from 12 weeks to four and reduces from one year to three months the time in which residential property can be redeemed by the former owner. These changes reduce the time involved in acquiring abandoned property and are intended to reduce the potential for vandalism of the vacant property.

Other new public act - make registered pharmacists in active practice for the past five years eligible to serve on the State Board of Pharmacy.

Dodge Rd. children use their driveway

To the editor

I'm addressing this letter to the boys and girls on Dodge Road between Charles and Ecorse who insist on wheeling their bikes in other persons' driveways.

Why, when you are asked once in a gentle way can't you stop?

My husband is 78 years of age and has been ill for a long time. You have been asked, told and finally yelled at and told not to use our driveway.

We have no children living at home and have only our dog as protection. But every time she hears any one in the driveway she let's loose.

We would enjoy a quiet life at our age. But you persist in coming in just the same. Not just one bike but four and more.

My thanks to the young lady (if I may use the term) for thumbing her nose at my husband, because he felt he was right.

Thank you for listening.

Corps of Engineers dumping site criticized

To the editor:

The Pointe Mouillee Waterfowl, the Trenton Sportsman's Club and the Wayne County Sportsman's Clubs all will be strongly represented at the U. S. Corps of Engineers hearing in building a "pollution proof" island at the mouth of the Detroit River and Lake Erie. Hearing is on Tuesday at Trenton High School.

They will take away hundreds of acres of good fishing and waterfowl hunting areas, pollute the waters with muck and gook dredgings, and help pollute the water intake for drinking water south of the project site. The Michigan United Conservation Clubs will also have representation there to protect "the island", also delegates and representatives from district 1, which is comprised of 89 sportsman's clubs in Wayne County.

Why does the Corps of Engineers give permits to companies to dump and pollute the waters, and then this same Corp of Engineers cleans those river bottoms and dumps it into the Great Lakes, where the fish we eat are caught and sold by commercial fishermen to the retailers! This puts them out of business, losing their fishing livelihood.

We will lose our good fishing grounds and waterfowl refuge and feeding areas, which had improved vastly in the past four years. When will all this pollution end!

This is everyone's fight. Join in and be at the hearing to protest the U.S. Corp of Engineers' proposed site in the open waters of the lower Detroit River. Let them put their site on the land adjoining the shores, where the dumping will not replace clean water and river bottom.

Such a site is the land the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Park Authority has, fronting on Lake Erie, use the original plans that were submitted to Brownstown Township Sept. 28th 1968 for the proposed 375 acres fill the Corp of Engineers agreed to, where the proposed (submerged) Oakwood Park is supposed to be built for the Huron-Clinton Park Authority.

Also to dump the rip-rap (stone) out in front of the Pointe Mouillee Marsh to save it from more erosion from the angry waves of Lake Erie. This we do need! The Corps site won't be any biological improvement since we require hundreds of acres of water and bottom.

Studded tire sale banned

By EDWARD E. MAHALAK, State Representative, 38th District

The House once defeated, but then passed a bill which would ban the use of studded tires in the state.

However, while the studded tires would not be able to be sold, those who have them could still use the tires through this winter and next winter. Also, the ban covers only the Lower Peninsula.

The Upper Peninsula, with its heavier snowfall, was exempted.

Opponents of the studded tires, which are legal only during the cold weather months, contend they will cost the state some $28 million in road repairs. The State Highway Department claims the studded tires, legal in Michigan for the last four winters, are doing "terrific damage" to the roads.

An estimated 15 per cent of the vehicles in Michigan had studded tires last winter.

Supporters of the studded tires point to their safety factor and maintain they have saved lives on winter highways. The claim studded tires are the most effective winter driving safety device available.

The State Board of Education gave a timely shot in the arm to the proposed constitutional amendment to eliminate property taxes as the prime source of school operating funds and to allow adoption of a graduated income tax.

The board unanimously adopted a resolution asking the legislature to place the resolution on the ballot for ratification by the state's voters. The amendment, which passed the house with one vote more than the necessary, is now before the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Tough sledding is expected in the Senate in spite of the House action, strong support from Gov. Milliken and other pressures for passage.

Opposition by the Senate republican leadership and many members of that party is centered mainly on the graduated income tax proposal. However, this would not automatically change Michigan's income tax. It merely removes from the 1963 constitution of the prohibition against an income tax. It merely removes from the 1963 constitution of the prohibition against an income tax graduated in rate or base.

Any change in the present income tax would have to be made in further legislation, should the amendment be passed and approved by a majority of the state's voters.

Campeau, co-chairman of the dinner program, Ernest Miller, honored Rotarian, Steve Horvath, president of the club, George Adams, honored Rotarian, and Sven Ekman, co-chairman of the dinner program.

Scouts recruit members, prepares for coming year

Boy Scout Troop 231 will be holding a fall recruitment drive, Calvin Light, scoutmaster, has announced.

The troop has openings for 30 boys between the ages of 11 and 15. Members of the troop, along with the committeemen, will be making a special effort this month to attract new members.

The troop is preparing a challenging and rewarding year and the more boys enrolled, the greater their experience.

Troop 231, sponsored by the Trinity Episcopal Church of Belleville, has in the past participated in activities as offered by the Huron District of the Detroit Area Council, such as weekend outings including freeze-outs for winter camping, fall camporees, for competition with other troops, council activities such as the Scout-a-Rama held every other year at the state fairgrounds, and the newly developed Project SOAR, the Boy Scout involvement with ecology.

Each activity offers the boys a chance to become proficient in the scouting skills and to be of service to their community.

As a troop, 231 also has conducted many weekend campouts which have earned it several camping awards. The troop is also known for its "Big Trip," which has included an eastern jaunt to New York and Washington a western trip to Colorado, tours of Michigan, the latest a primitive camping tour of Isle Royale in the Upper Penninsula, and its largest 21 undertaking, a camping tour in Hawaii in 1966.

As service projects, the boys have helped the Goodwill Industries clothing drive, the communities of Belleville and Van Buren and Sumpter Townships with clean up activities and paper pick-ups, aided the 4-H Fair and distributed food baskets and trees at Christmas.

All activities have incorporated the skills of scouting under proper leadership and offered the boys opportunities to meet scouts throughout the country and to practice their scouting code.

Enthusiastic support from involved parents and interested citizens is a welcome asset and has enabled the scouts to operate with a good committee and a hard working Mothers Auxiliary.

From Troop 231 has come a dozen Eagle Scouts in the last 15 years and valuable training for hundreds of past members of the troop. The troop meets at Trinity Episcopal Church hall, 11575 Belleville Rd. every Wednesday evening from 7 to 9 p.m.

Committee meetings are held on the second Monday of each month (time and place to be scheduled for the coming year) and the auxiliary meets the third Wednesday of the month at the church, from 7 to 9 p.m.

More information may be obtained by calling Scoutmaster Calvin Light, evenings, at 6977-7078.

Training session set for scout leaders

The Huron District of the Boy Scouts has announced the next training session for adult leaders in both the Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts will be held at Taylor Park Elementary School Oct. 5, 12, 19, 26 and Nov. 2.

The Nov. 2 meeting for den mothers will be devoted to den coach training. The cost will be $1.50 for all the sessions and they will start at 7:30 p.m.

The Annual Dinner for the district will be held at the Belleville Methodist Church at 7 p.m. Oct. 25. Tickets are $3 per person and may be ordered at the council headquarters.

The Boy Scouts who attended the World Jamboree in Japan will have charge of the program.

The annual POW-WOW for scouts will be held on Nov. 6.

New Boston Rotary honors dedicated pair

Twenty five members of the New Boston Rotary Club and their wives honored two fellow Rotarians at the Sheraton Motel, Romulus, last Friday.

The two Rotarians honored by their colleagues were George D. Adams of 37235 Evans, New Boston, and Ernest G. Miller of 17525 Huron River Dr., New Boston. Both men have been very active in Rotary projects for the last 35 years.

Miller, the senior member of the two, became a member of the Dearborn Rotary Club in 1929 before joining the New Boston Rotary Club in 1916. Adams, a charter member of the New Boston Rotary Club, began his work in the Rotary on March 20, 1939.

Rene Campeau and Sven Ekman were co-chairmen of the dinner program. Tribute was given to both men by Ekman and Campeau.

Ekman recalled the early days of the New Boston Rotary Club when Adams was involved in all the activities sponsored by the club.

He spoke of the numerous projects when Rotarian Adams was the dynamo in "getting things done." Ekman said, "George served the club in every capacity and more by his dedicated service, which typifies the Rotary International motto, 'Service Above Self,' adding, 'He is the quiet man who charms the ladies with his singing voice but has been very active in both the Dearborn and New Boston clubs.'"

Campeau expressed his feelings and the feelings of all those present when he said, "Both of these men personify the true spirit of Rotary work. They are dedicated to helping others and they have proven this by their deeds."

Both honored Rotarians received as a gift for their untiring years with Rotary a pen and pencil set with the inscription, "In appreciation for your faithful service to the New Boston Rotary Club."

Mrs. Adams received a beautiful corsage from Mrs. Harvey Carey for her support and understanding of her husband's Rotary assignments. Mrs. Miller was unable to be present because of illness.

Adams and Miller said that during the course of their years in business a few honors were bestowed upon them, but none was more meaningful and appreciated as much as the one they received on Friday.

"My day would be complete if Mrs. Miller could be here with me tonight to witness this honor given me," Miller said. Adams expressed his appreciation to the members and wished his long-time Rotarian pal, Edward Bondaryski, could have been present to help celebrate the occasion.

Bondaryski, also a charter member of the New Boston Rotary Club, passed away several years ago.

He, like George and other charter members, were responsible for the many charitable programs sponsored during the last 32 years.

Both men received standing ovations from their fellow Rotarians at the conclusion of the program.

As one member said, "We have a long way to go to catch up to the likes of those two."

NATIONAL UNCLAIMED FURNITURE does not sell used or abused merchandise. When a dealer places an order for furniture with a manufacturer he may find that he has a storage problem when delivered; or possibly insufficient funds to handle the transaction. It is impossible to return the merchandise to the factory because of tremendous freight costs on truckload orders. The manufacturer then must look for an outlet such as NATIONAL UNCLAIMED FURNITURE to liquidate his order. That's why we can serve your future needs and do it at a reasonable cost without sacrificing quality. Unclaimed and brand new shipments just arrived.

Dirty doings continue at the old prep school

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Movie Critic

Goodbye, Mr. Chips, it's much better that you leave quietly. Seeing what has happened to the English boarding school would disturb you no end. In "Unman, Wittering and Zigo," a deliciously evil thriller in a long English tradition of dirty doings at the old prep school, the loss of innocence suggested by "If" is now complete.

The result finds David Hemmings in a sensitive performance as the enthusiastic John Ebony, a young man with a dedicated zeal for education.

Ebony replaces a master who fell off a cliff to his death in mid-term; his class is boisterous and confident of its strength. From the moment he first calls the roll, which ends in "Unman, Wittering and Zigo," there is a disturbing sense of power on the part of the 14-year-olds. When Ebony threatens to keep the class in on Saturday, they calmly inform him that when the last master tried to do the same thing, they pushed him off a cliff.

Ebony's attempts to suggest dirty doings to the stern headmaster (Douglas Wilmer) prove fruitless; Farthingale, a fellow master (Anthony Haygarth) with a fine sense for the futility of it all is able to follow his friend's predicament with no more than a clinical curiosity. And his wife Silvie (Carolyn Seymour) thinks her husband is dramatizing the situation.

He is not. Director John Mackenzie firmly guides Simon Raven's straightforward script to the inevitable conflict. When the boys produce the dead master's wallet, Ebony is convinced. The boys suggest an accommodation in which they will study as little as possible and he will guarantee their marks and book their horse bets. In return they will make him look good before the headmaster.

The ignominy of such an arrangement becomes quickly evident and, when Ebony learns that he is to be replaced the next term, he balks. The boys decide that Ebony needs convincing and they threaten his wife. Ebony, meanwhile, is now frantically searching for the ringleader of the operation and events build to a thundering climax.

It might be fair to assess "Unman, Wittering and Zigo" in terms of the relationships between contemporary youth and the moral society, but such analyses will be firmly resisted. "Unman, Wittering and Zigo" is far too juicy to let the analysts at it. Enjoy, enjoy.

UNMAN, WITTERING AND ZIGO — The rescue party attempt to get Wittering's body up the cliff in Paramount Pictures' "Unman, Wittering and Zigo", a Mediarts Production in association with David Hemmings. David Hemmings stars in the film produced by Gareth Wigan and directed by Simon Raven.

Snowmobile show planned at center

Snowmobile Showcase will fill the courts and malls of Westland Center Thursday through Sunday. The show, sponsored by the Michigan Snowmobile Distributors Association will feature over 50 models of major brands of 1972 snowmobiles on display with absolutely no duplication.

The Michigan International Snowmobilers Association will also be on hand to explain the various safety and conservation programs that snowmobilers in this area are undertaking.

The show is presented by the Westland Center Merchants Association and is offered to the public at no charge. "We have assembled a very comprehensive array of 1972 snowmobiles and are inviting our customers to see them at no cost, whereas other shows of this nature charge for both admission and parking," said Robert Sturwald, president of the Westland Merchants Association.

The show hours will conform to center hours of 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily and noon to 5 p.m. Sundays.

Ticket sales up at Meadow Brook

Subscription ticket sales for the 1971-72 season at Meadow Brook Theatre are selling at a record clip, according to Managing Director Frank Bollinger.

"We've passed the 9,500 mark in this season's subscription drive," said Bollinger, "and we're only half-way through the campaign."

The largest subscription sale at Meadow Brook previous to this year, Bollinger pointed out, was 7,600 in 1969. Last year's season ticket sales at Meadow Brook Theatre totaled 6,700.

"Not only are season ticket sales climbing towards a record number this year, but so are adult group sales and, significantly, student group sales have already passed the 4,000 mark."

Rehearsals begin this week for the 1971-72 season opening on Oct. 14 of Thornton Wilder's classic comedy "The Matchmaker."

Expansion scheduled at Greenfield Village

The first stage in a multi-million-dollar expansion of Greenfield Village and the Henry Ford Museum will begin this fall, it was announced today by William Clay Ford, chairman of the board of trustees of The Edison Institute, the non-profit, educational corporation which administers the two activities, said the entire expansion program is scheduled for completion by 1979.

The program, developed by the Los Angeles consulting firm of Herb Rosenthal & Associates, "provides not only for a major enlargement of present facilities but for the addition of new facilities as well, and will add substantially to the Institute's appeal without altering in any way its character and reputation as a showplace of American history," Ford said.

The rear of the Museum, the consolidation of library facilities in Lovett Hall, and extensive alterations there to provide additional offices and classrooms for the Institute's rapidly growing education program.

That program increased from 11 courses and 159 registrants in 1969 to 53 courses and 598 registrants will begin year.

Ford explained that the trustees within the next few months will be asked to approve specific plans for a 350-seat Early American restaurant, two trains which will operate around the perimeter of the Village, a new orientation and sales center for visitors, and an early riverfront street facing the lagoon on which the paddle-wheeler "Suwanee" now operates.

The two-story restaurant, which will adjoin the Museum on the east and be connected to it by means of an arcade, will offer cafeteria service on the first floor and table service on the second floor and on an adjoining patio.

The Village particularly are simply unaware of its size, and are disappointed if they find themselves unable to see everything there is to see on foot," Ford said.

He noted that the addition of a perimeter train and other transportation will help solve that problem. At least two additional depots will be installed to permit the loading and unloading of passengers at various points in the Village.

Ford described the proposed riverfront street as a "focal point of fun" in the Village. "We want this project to offer a nostalgic look at how Americans amused themselves in bygone days," he said. "It offers exciting possibilities and, although its specific details haven't yet been finalized, we envision it as having a horsedrawn, trolley, a dock for the 'Suwanee,' a barbeque pavilion with outdoor tables, a bandstand, a nickelodeon, and perhaps even a boat-building activity on the bank of the lagoon."

High priority has been given to the provision of additional visitor amenities, including benches, restrooms and food service facilities in various parts of the Village.

It is hoped eventually to divide the Village into 'clearly defined' residential, commercial and industrial areas.

"The basis for all three exists now," Mr. Ford said. "We don't propose to make any significant changes in the present residential area—the fine old historic homes, which are among our most popular attractions. However, we do intend to add to the shops and industrial buildings in such a way that they'll be more accessible and meaningful to the public."

A feature of the commercial area is expected to be a crafts center in which operating shops will be clustered along one block of Christie Street, extending toward Washington Boulevard. There, visitors will be able to see craftsmen at work and will have an opportunity to purchase the articles being produced.

The entire eight-year program has been approved in principle by the trustees, and other projects will be submitted to them annually for specific approval.

Although the expansion is targeted for completion by 1979, no actual time limit has been set, Ford said.

"We could be finished either somewhat earlier or later than that," he explained. "The timing will depend on a number of things. First, we'll prioritize projects on the basis of funds available to us each year."

"Then, we'd like to schedule as much work as possible for periods in which it would be least disruptive to visitors. Both the Village and Museum will remain in full operation while the work is going on. And, finally portions of the program hinge on our ability to find and acquire authentic Early American buildings."

This new development program, coupled with our expanding activity in the field of education, will provide a combination of enlightenment and entertainment unmatched anywhere," he added.

Art show slated for Livonia Mall

An exhibit of paintings and crafts will be shown at Livonia Mall, Seven Mile and Middlebelt roads, from Sept. 30 to Oct. 9.

Approximately 1000 paintings will be shown in the enclosed mall. There will be a number of demonstrations each day in ceramics, portrait painting, easel painting, acrylic painting and glass-blowing.

Sabo refuses to back stadium proposal

John N. Sabo Jr. (D-Taylor) representing the 24th District on the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, issued the following statement in opposition to plans for Detroit's proposed $126 million riverfront station.

"I am concerned over the many factors concerning the pledge of full faith and credit of the county taxpayers' money for the domed stadium in the City of Detroit for private enterprise.

"Other questions that seem to be going unanswered is the fact that who is going to pay for the present Detroit Tiger Stadium to the Detroit Ball Club. The cost of it, it is my understanding, would be in the neighborhood of $3 to $5 million. Do the taxpayers feel that they should back our full faith and credit in this package as well. I say no.

"I also object very strongly to Commissioner James R. McCartney (D-15th District) even voting on this matter when it is a definite conflict of interest since he is an employee of the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce, which, in effect, presented to the Wayne County Commissioners the feasibility study along with Commissioner Thomas P. O'Rourke."

"This is something that has to be looked into. I feel that we don't have enough time to review the report which was presented to us Thursday and we must take action by 2 p.m. Monday. This report is 2 to 3 inches thick.

"Last night my constituents as well as the constituents of James McCartney at the 15th

District meeting took action to vote no on pledging of the full faith and credit of the county taxpayers until the county commissioners, each and every one, has an opportunity to study the report in detail before any action be taken.

"It is a crying shame when the City of Detroit needs more than $1 million dollars for the Detroit Board of Education for education, they propose that we should be asked to endorse the full faith and credit for private enterprise at the present time.

"The City of Detroit owes the county of Wayne $39 million dollars for the Detroit Water System purchased in 1959 for $54 million dollars and it has to pay back the full amount of 1991.

"In effect it looks like lending money to people who can't pay."

Ceramics show set for October

The Michigan Ceramic Dealers' Association is presenting a Ceramic and Hobby Show in the Community Arts Building on the Michigan State Fairgrounds, Woodward Avenue and State Fair Street, Detroit on Oct. 1-3.

Over 75 ceramic studios and manufacturers from all over Michigan and from other parts of the United States will be represented. Exhibitors include nationally known artist-teachers from as far west as California and from as far East as Florida.

The object of the show is to show the public the fun, relaxation and profit that can be enjoyed by enthusiasts of ceramics and other hobbies.

Exhibitors will prove by actual demonstrations that anyone, even those with little or no artistic ability, can enjoy this wonderful hobby.

The techniques used to decorate ceramics are so many and so varied that the hobby can provide an excellent creative outlet for beginners or for advanced artists.

The hours of the show are Friday and Saturday from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Sunday from noon to 6 p.m.

The show will feature a hobbyist competitive exhibit that is open to all hobby ceramists. There will be door prizes and ample parking. There is an admission price of $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

The three R's ---and a guitar

An elementary teacher employed by the Van Buren Public School District uses the guitar to help her communicate with her students.

She is Miss Dorothy Tolnay, 25, of 7226 Kingsley, Dearborn, who is serving her first year on the school district's teaching staff.

Miss Tolnay teaches the first grade class at the West Willow Elementary School, located at 2060 Mary Catherine St., Ypsilanti. During the 1970-71 school year, she taught at the St. Cyprian Elementary School, 13315

Pennsylvania Rd., Riverview. She uses many counting songs such as "The Ants Go Marching One By One," "Going Over the Sea," and "The Elephant's Song." She also uses the guitar as an enrichment to help her students enjoy singing and as a relaxing experience.

In explaining her unique method of teaching arithmetic, rhythm and marching with the guitar, Miss Tolnay said, "At the Riverview school there wasn't a music teacher for the class. I wanted to have an enrichment program and study the guitar as a means of doing it."

School brochure being distributed

An informational brochure prepared by the Instructional Materials Center of the Van Buren Public School District is being distributed this week to new residents of the school district.

The brochure, entitled "To Our New Residents, Welcome to Van Buren Schools," contains pictorial as well as written details of the school district.

The 1971-72 school calendar, photos of members of the Van Buren Board of Education and administrative officials, school buildings with their locations and phone numbers are included in the brochure.

In addition, photos of various programs of the school system are also displayed, as well as a map showing the boundaries of the school district.

The Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce is participating in the circulation of the school district's brochure by inserting it in its own new Belleville Area Brochure that is currently being distributed.

WHEREAS, the City of Romulus deems it in the best interests of the citizens of the City to provide for their health, safety and well being by the regulation and control of trash, litter and unkept property within said City.

THE CITY OF ROMULUS ORDAINS:

Section 3. No person, partnership, association, or corporation shall deposit, leave or permit to remain in any public street or alley or public place or in any private place or premises any trash, litter or debris including scrap lumber and auto parts, except on approved public or private dumps or areas designed by the City for the collection of such articles.

Section 4. No person shall deposit, leave or permit to remain in any public or private place or premises any glass, metal, stone, cinders, nails, medicine, poison or other substances of a nature which is likely to cause injury to persons, animals, or vehicles within the City of Romulus.

Section 5. It shall be the duty of the owner or person in control of any premises, vacant or occupied to keep his premises, sidewalks, and all adjoining public property between his property line and the center line of the adjoining street or alley free and clear of litter, trash and debris at all times. 2-In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear wife, aunt, and sister Jennie Karvola, who passed away one year ago Sept. 20, 1970.
These are my treasures kept apart,
Cradled in velvet in my heart,
Graven profiles, picture-clear,
Perfect moments, priceless-dear,
Etched in ageless time to be my cameos of memory.
The hours I have spent with you,
The tender times, the fun times, too,
The summer roses and the rain,
The laughter and the precious pain
Of loving you - your loving me -
My cameos of memory.
These are my wealth, my warmth, my light,
I keep them dream-close all the night.
With finger-tips of heart and mind
I trace each profile there defined -
These treasures none can take from me -
My cameos of memory.
Jerry Karvola, Carol & Roy Gilstorff, Carol & Ellen Bohn

OUR SON Jerry is missed so by us and his friends. Watkins Family, 34966 Richard St., Wayne.

Polara/Monaco—the all-new look of '72 at familiar '71 prices.

ALL-NEW STYLING... SAME OLD PRICES.

In a year when most new cars look a lot like last year's, Dodge Polara and Monaco do not. They've been restyled for '72. The emphasis in the design of these new cars has been on strength, solidity, and silence. Their strong, expressive styling achieves an attitude of distinction with clean, fresh lines. And while the styling is all new, the prices of the '72 Polara and Monaco, and all Dodges, will remain the same as those offered on comparably equipped 1971 models. Prices may never be lower.

1972 DODGE MONACO Designed for the man who wants excellence without extravagance. The restyled 1972 Monaco has a look that sets it apart from the rest of the medium-priced field... like smooth lines, hidden headlights, and a streak of protective side moulding. It's equipped with the features you'd expect in a car as distinguished as Dodge Monaco. The new 360 two-barrel V8 engine, precise power steering, power front disc brakes, and Dodge's famous, smooth TorqueFlite automatic transmission are all standard.

1972 DODGE POLARA

Dodge builds the Polara with a little extra size and riding comfort, and at the lowest possible price. You get such easygoing features as power steering, TorqueFlite automatic transmission, and a powerful, yet economical, 318 V8 engine standard.

Belleville '11' beats Bedford in opener

'TOUCHDOWN' — Flanked by teammates Brad Smith (28) and Kevin Christensen (48) Romulus fullback John Arrington (35) holds the ball high after crossing Inkster's goal line. Arrington scored both touchdowns in the Eagles' 13-8 opening day victory at Inkster Friday afternoon. Coach George Pratt's ball club will make their initial home appearance Friday when it will host Highland Park at 3:30 p.m.

Huron edges Grosse Ile

Jamie Hinojosa, a 6-foot-1, 185-pound defensive end, blocked Grosse Ile's conversion attempt in the first quarter and that eventually proved to be the difference between a tie or victory as New Boston Huron posted a 15-14 victory over their opening league foes Friday night.

Midway in the first quarter Grosse Ile jolted Coach Lee Smeltzer's Chiefs by putting together an 83-yard drive which ended with Scott Cline dashing 17-yards for his first of two six pointers.

However, Grosse Ile's point after attempt was thwarted when Hinojosa broke in and blocked the kick.

Late in that opening period, the Chiefs realized their first TD of the season when junior quarterback Mario Garcia hooked up with Hinojosa on a 35-yard touchdown pass play.

And Jamie's younger brother Tim, connected for the extra point to give the visitors a 7-6 edge.

Grosse Ile snatched the lead back in the third quarter when it managed to drive 74-yards. Fullback Cline cashed in on a three-yard lunge for his second tally of the game. This time quarterback Larry Eldridge hit Bill Everal with an over-the-center pass which netted the hosts two points and the lead 15-7.

The Chiefs got their hands on the ball with seven minutes remaining and went to work again after the ensuing kickoff wound up on their own 40-yard line. Six plays later, with the help of a 25-yard aerial from Garcia to Dana Kemp, the Chiefs again were on the scoreboard as halfback Chuck

Emerson: 'We didn't quit'

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

After spotting their host a first quarter touchdown and trailing 14-7 at halftime, Belleville gridders refused to quit and rallied to a 21-14 victory over Bedford-Temperance Friday night.

"These kids didn't quit," said an elated Keith Emerson who launched his second year as the Tiger mentor with a triumph. "This shows the type of kids we have on this year's squad. And it was a tremendous effort both by our offensive and defensive units which enabled us to win this opener."

Belleville's rugged Tony Ogletree scored on an 80-yard punt return in the third quarter and Mike Dansard sprinted over from five yards out in the fourth quarter after a one-yard plunge in the second frame to supply the Tigers with the winning edge.

Dansard, a junior halfback, picked up 55 yards in 15 carries against the Great Lakes co-champs.

Belleville moved to their host's 20-yard line in the opening quarter but couldn't find the right combination to polish off the remaining distance as starting running back Charles Boddie was injured in that series of plays. That was their furthest penetration in the first quarter.

After an exchange of punts, Bedford's Dennis Siedlecki broke loose on a 50-yard touchdown jaunt that tilted the scoreboard in the host's favor. San Stokes then connected on his first of two point after to make it 7-0.

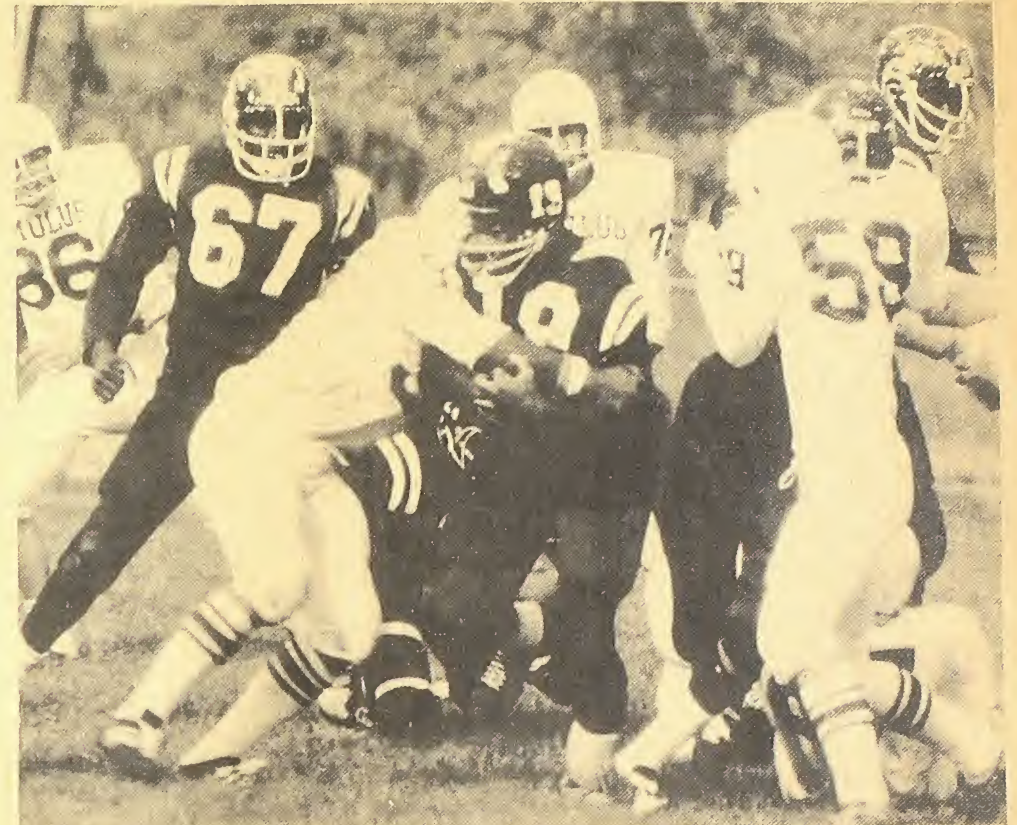

Belleville managed to get the equalizer mid-way in the second quarter when drive 70-yards. Dansard, quarterback Mike Garland getting excellent block from strung together 14 plays to fullback Ogletree, slipped STOP SIGN — Inkster's senior quarterback Darrell Williams (19) finds the going rough as he tries to break through the center of Romulus' line and is nailed. Romulus' defense shut out its host for three quarters before giving up a fourth quarter TD.

Arrington scores 2 TDs as Romulus wins

Romulus struck for two touchdowns in the first half and made them stand up the rest of the way as Coach George Pratt's Eagles claimed a 13-8 victory over host Inkster in the 1971 opener Friday afternoon.

Romulus, playing an independent schedule because of the dissolution of the Twin Valley Conference, will be at home Friday to Border Cities League rival, Highland Park, a loser to River Rouge last Friday.

"The major part of their offense is their quarterback," said Pratt discussing the pending contest with the Parkers. "This Del Steele is a sound quarterback who can pass and run. We're going to have to stop him if we are going to win."

Senior fullback John Arrington raced around end in the first quarter and sprinted 34 yards into the end zone to put the Eagles on the scoreboard for the first touchdown, then he ployed three yards off tackle in the second stanza to account for the second six-pointer in the triumph over Inkster.

Kevin Christensen converted the first extra point, but didn't get a chance for his second attempt because of a poor snap from center. Inkster finally broke the ice in the last quarter when quarterback Darryl Williams scampered six yards into the end zone with four minutes remaining. A pass from Williams to McArthur Hammons accounted for Inkster's two-point conversion.

Romulus had a couple of other TD opportunities but failed to cash in on them. In the opening quarter, with Arrington grinding out the yardage, the Eagles marched to the Inkster 26-yard line from their own 41 but found the rest of the way expensive.

Then Daryl Gooden recovered a fumble on the Inkster 10-yard line, but again the Eagles couldn't capitalize on the mis cue.

Romulus' defense, led by Ken McMann, Gooden, Marvin Williams also had a busy day checking the bigger Inkster ball club. McMann, Gooden and Williams each accounted for six unassisted tackles while McMann had an interception and Gooden and Williams each pounced on fumbles for recoveries.

Arrington counted a total of 115 of his team's 238 yards of offensive yards, including two touchdowns. He rushed 25 times. Arrington also stood out on defensive where he snared a pass, bagged five unassisted tackles and two assists.

Virgil Smith, who was given the nod as the starting Romulus quarterback, came through with 21 yards rushing and hit on three of 10 passes - all to tight end McMann for 29 yards.

"We were glad to win the first one," said Pratt. "But we made a lot of mistakes, mistakes that we will have to correct for Friday's game with Highland Park if we want to win."

MEL JACOBS says:

"Things turn up for persons who dig!" — so "turn up" at our shop and "dig" the many low, low prices on radios, stereos, speakers, tape players, etc.

stressed Grasley. "And, if nobody would object, I would gladly host the meet."

Grasley pointed out that the inaugural meet could be staged at the foot of Rosewood and Harrison, just off Middlebelt, the Spartan's home course. It would cover 2½ miles - the present distance high school harriers run in meets.

Wayne Memorial coach Dick Miller, the dean of area cross country coaches, feels "that the meet is a good idea."

"In fact we discussed something about a panel of three coaches acting as a supervisory board. For example, one question arose about injured runners who didn't complete the season. Would they be considered in the final selections?" said Miller.

"We came to the conclusion that this All-Area meet should be a one-shot deal. If you run and a finish among the top 10, then you're in, just like the all-area track meet. "There would be no need for a panel, then."

"Of course, we feel that the meet should be held sometime after the state finals," said Miller.

We'll buy that - now if only we can find someone or some organization to buy the trophies and sort of co-sponsor the meet, wouldn't that be something? Are there any offers?

Ducks identified

The two duck identification courses sponsored by the Pointe Mouillee Waterfowlers were a huge success. There were a total of 435 duck hunters present at Janek's River Road House.

James Foote, Pt. Mouillee game biologist, Jerry Martz from Lansing, and Robert Huff, District Game Supervisor, put on a good display of 100 mounted waterfowl in different stages of color for identification purposes.

They also had film clips of waterfowl in flight for silhouette and color, also slides were shown with mixed water fowl to be compared for looks and color.

The new system was also talked about, that will be a most. Duck hunting in the duck blinds only, which will be posted and numbered. There will be two or more in each blind, assigned in groups, in the zoned area by permit only. No singles will be allowed, they will hunt in the overflow

DOWNED EAGLE — Romulus' Ken McMann (light jersey) is brought down by Inkster's secondary Russell Kennedy after he snares a pass from quarterback Virgil Smith. McMann had all three of Smith's aerial completions for a total of 29 yards in the Eagles' 13-8 triumph over their nests.

Hink overcomes 100 foot barrier

Ronald Hink, age 16, of 12520 Stanley Dr. in Belleville is the new Michigan State boy's water skiing champion. Hink won his title on Oxford Lake near Oxford and carried 103 feet off of a five foot jump. He was the first person in the boys class to break the 100 foot barrier in tournament competition.

In other competition, Hink finished second in technique and third in the slalom.

The overall championship qualified him for competition at the mid-west regional meeting in Iowa, where he finished in fifth place.

At the national meeting at Columbus, Hink jumped 113 feet, again off of a five foot jump, pushing his longest distance to just 12 feet short of the world record for a five foot jump.

He received an exceptional rating, the highest honor in water skiing, in two events and was given a masters rating in another.

Hink has been skiing for two years, under the coaching of Bill Peterson, a former state champion who is also a professional snow skier for the Hart Ski Co.

Hink plans to compete in the Marion Invitational meet around Christmas.

blocking, Ogletree meandered through Bedford's defense for 80-yards to put the Tigers within one point of erasing the deficit.

Emerson, instead of going to Crawford for the one-point conversion, had Garland trot over from the three for the two points, giving the Tigers a 15-14 edge.

With five minutes remaining, Dansard climaxed a 72-yard drive with his second TD of the game. He attempted to run the conversion and was stopped short of the goal line.

Garland, in his quarterbacking debut, hit on three of his six pass attempts for 29 yards. He also picked up 52 yards in 10 rushes. Stan Mars chipped in 30 of the team's 179 yards rushing. He carried eight times.

Emerson singled out Gary Krajewski, John Alford John Harris and John Myers for their outstanding performances on defense.

Belleville will open the inaugural Suburban 8 phase of its scheduled Friday night against Trenton, a team which always is tough on the gridiron.

"Trenton traditionally is a fine football school," said Emerson, "and we expect a tough game here that night."

Huron a winner

Inman dashed over from the one.

A pass play clicked from Garcia, this time to halfback Wayne Kiser for the two-point conversion.

Huron controlled the last quarter as the Chiefs recovered a fumble thanks to Inman who bounced on the errant ball at the Grosse Ile 26-yard line where the Chiefs initiated a drive that ended two yards shy of their third touchdown.

The victory was the third in a row over the Grosse Ile ball club for Smeltzer's gridders, who will now be challenged by a much-improved Carlson team on Friday.

"We made a lot of mistakes against Grosse Ile," said the third year Huron coach. "I think the difference in the game was that we outthusted them. Friday's game against Carlson will be a good test for us. They have a sound passing game and we must stop it."

Statistically, Huron accumulated a total of 313 yards as compared to Grosse Ile's 253. Garcia hit on 10 of 15 passes which gave the Chiefs 170 yards while the victors had 12 first downs as compared to nine.

Inman was the leading rusher with 48 yards in 10 tries, while teammate Dan Clark picked up 44 yards in 12 attempts. Defensively, Ron Thompson stood out with six unassisted tackles and cornerback Wayne Kiser hauled down five ball carriers.

Hurt education forum slated for next week

"It's a good guess that in today's high pressure civilization no disease does quite so much damage to so many people as high blood pressure. And to compound the tragedy, a great deal of this damage is unnecessary because the disease is amenable to treatment."

Dr. William L. Hailer, a member of the Trenton Osteopathic Clinic, says the American Heart Association estimates that high blood pressure affects about 26 million Americans, of whom one-third to one-half are untreated either because the patients don't know they have it or, if they do know, they don't bother to take treatment.

"They don't know or don't care that untreated high blood pressure is a strong factor in bringing on heart attack and probably the most important single cause of stroke," he says.

The doctor, who handles many high blood pressure patients, will be one of three speakers at the first public heart education forum to be held Thursday night, Oct. 21, at Belleville High School, 501 W. Columbia Ave. It is being sponsored by the Southern Wayne County Unit of the Michigan Heart Association and cosponsored by the Belleville Enterprise.

Admission will be by tickets, available free at the Heart Information Center, 24365 Van Born, Taylor, or at the Enterprise office, 405 Main Street, Belleville, 48111, said Mrs. Mary Bowman of Wyandotte, chairman and Olin H. Wyman of Belleville, member of the forum planning committee.

Other speakers will be Mrs. Dianne Batch of Grosse Ile, a registered dietitian at Riverside Osteopathic Hospital, in Trenton. She will talk about diets which can give people a better chance of keeping their arteries clear and healthy. She will show a heart movie, "Eat to Your Heart's Content."

Dr. S. Phillip Grillo, who came to Belleville in 1944, will lead the audience in the game of "Risko," devised by the Michigan Heart Association to emphasize the importance of avoiding risk factors, especially smoking and lack of exercise, in averting untimely heart attack and-or stroke. The association is a United Fund agency.

Dr. William L. Hailer, who has a degree in chemistry from Wayne State University, will present an association film, "What Goes Up," which portrays some aspects of high blood pressure. Dr. Hailer, 44, has practiced medicine in Trenton for 15 years.

"High blood pressure is not a simple thing," Dr. Hailer explains. "In spite of tremendous research, nobody knows the cause of about three-fourths of the cases. Tremendous research by the Heart Association, drug companies, and the government have brought about the discovery of a great many drugs which will reduce a patient's blood pressure, properly handled and administered.

"There are so many of these drugs available that doctors now have a great advantage," he continued. If one of the drugs has bad side effects on a patient, we can use other drugs until we find one that does not bother the patient.

"But we have another difficulty. High blood pressure often responds nicely to treatment and the patient feels better right away; then he forgets to take his medicine regularly or to see his doctor," he says. "This can have severe consequences. A patient can be comfortable and yet have enough high blood pressure to help trigger an untimely heart attack or stroke."

Dr. Hailer was formerly the chief of staff at Trenton's Riverside Osteopathic Hospital, and also was president of the Rotary in Trenton.

"Unchecked high blood pressure attacks a patient in several ways. It makes the heart work harder; this brings on heart enlargement and failure. And the increased pressure of blood in the arteries can lead to a rupture, a cause of stroke. Or in combination with cholesterol, it helps the formation of plaques and clots in the arteries, the most common cause of heart attack.

"Blood pressure is measurable; the higher it is the more damage it can do. And the way to be sure you don't have it is to see your doctor now and then and have him check it," he emphasized.

Admission to the Michigan Heart Association's program is free but tickets are required. If you would like to attend please fill out the coupon below and send with a stamped self-addressed envelope to:

Approval sought for airport expansion

The Michigan Aeronautics Commission plans to seek state legislative approval of $2.05 million for airport construction at 14 sites around the state starting in 1973.

The total cost of the planned expansion would be $44.5 million. The Federal Aviation Administration would be asked to provide some $9 million while local taxes would raise the bulk — $33.34 million.

The largest proposal of the 14 is expansion of Detroit's Metropolitan Airport in Romulus at a cost of $33.3 million. The state would pay $500,000, the FAA $5 million and Wayne County taxes $27.8 million.

Other major proposals with estimated total costs are: Flint Bishop Airport, Genesee County, $5 million, Kent County, $1.64 million; Blackner Airport, Manistee County, $461,720; Marquette County, $1.9 million and Muskegon County, $718,000.

DEPARTMENT STORE NOW BAR — The Romulus Department Store, formerly located at 36535 Goddard Rd., Romulus, has been converted into one of Romulus' current Class C. Liquor establishments called the Landing Strip Lounge. Joseph J. Lambert, of Southfield, manager of the Romulus branch of the Michigan Secretary of State office, is owner and operator. Renovating the building from the department store, which was also owned by Lambert, into one of the area's leading lounges had an estimated construction cost of $35,000, the Romulus Building Department reported.

Nov. 1 deadline is set for academy applicants

Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District) has set Nov. 1 as the preliminary deadline for youths living in his district to apply for 1972 nominations to the United States Service Academies.

Application forms and full information may be obtained by writing to Congressman Ford at 125 Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D.C., 20515.

Appointments will be available, he said, for the Military Academy at West Point, the Naval Academy at Annapolis, the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, and the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York.

Applicants must be at least 17 years old, but not have reached the age of 22 by next July 1, to qualify for appointment in 1971. They must be United States citizens, unmarried, and residing in the 15th Congressional District.

All youths seeking appointment must submit Scholastic Aptitude Test scores and successfully complete a preliminary physical examination to qualify for nomination. Information on when and where to take the tests will be furnished upon application to Congressman Ford.

The results of these tests, along with high school academic records and extra-curricular activities, will help to determine which applicants are nominated, Congressman Ford said.

"All interested students are urged to apply," Congressman Ford said, "as at least five young men from my district are accepted into the academies each year."

The Congressman emphasized, however, that nomination does not automatically mean appointment to one of the academies. All nominees must pass competitive examinations given by the various academies. Those selected for admission will be notified early in 1972 for enrollment next July.

Those young men appointed to attend the academies will receive a tuition-free education culminating in a bachelor of science degree, as well as receiving the monthly salaries of service personnel. Upon graduation, they will be commissioned as officers in the Army, Navy, Air Force, or Merchant Marine. Free medical dental, and legal services are also available to the academy cadets.

Motel gets approval

The Hilton Inn Metropolitan Airport is now entitled to display the official "AAA Approved" sign and will be listed in Triple-A publications reaching 11 million members across the United States and Canada, Cain said.

Triple-A regularly inspects and rates lodgings and travel accommodations which are listed in more than 10 million tour books given to traveling members each year. The tour books also list approved dining spots and points of interest to travelers.

There are currently three motels with Triple-A approved ratings in the area served by Auto Club's Ypsilanti office.

SILVER TEA — The Huron Valley Garden Club marked its 25th anniversary Monday, September 13, at the home of Mrs. Madelyn Blend of Juniper Drive, Belleville. Some 31 guests were present including four charter members: Mrs. Leo Gloyd

Huron Valley Garden Club observes silver anniversary

Four charter members attend

Thirty-one members and guests of the Huron Valley Garden Club met recently at the home of Mrs. D.W. Blend on Juniper Drive for the club's silver anniversary. Among those attending were four charter members: Mrs. Rose Vincent, Mrs. John Gras, Mrs. Leo Gloyd, and Mrs. Laverne Sayre.

The current president, Mrs. Rodney Mast, conducted a short meeting during which members were reminded of the District I annual meeting at Dearborn Inn, October 6. Vice-president, Mrs. Adger Wall, read some of the projects accomplished by the club over the past year, among them, the planting of crownvetch on the lake banks, distribution of fruit baskets to patients at Van Buren Convalescent Home, planting of flowers at the Convalescent Home, and the payment of tuition for a student at Higgins Lake Conservation School.

AFTER THE meeting, guests reminisced about the past years of the club, one guest remembering the green sales the club once sponsored.

Mrs. Rose Vincent told of an ambitious project wherein the club attempted to plant 'a mile to remember'. Plans had called for the planting of irises along the median of the expressway but the state highway department wouldn't allow it.

The group was also told that Mrs. John Gras had had 12 of her flower arrangements on the national calendar one year.

Mrs. Thurston Jahr and Mrs. Olin Wyman commented on the flowering crab trees sold by the club 16 years ago for $1.50. Each spring many of those trees flower throughout Belleville through the efforts of this project.

THROUGHOUT THE 25 years, the club has sponsored many flower shows and art exhibits.

Mrs. Leo Gloyd, 91, the oldest member of the club, told of the Huron Valley Garden Club's beginning in her home 25 years prior.

Members serving on the anniversary committee included Mrs. Merrill Bird, Mrs. John Tator, Mrs. Wyman, Mrs. Wall, and Mrs. Blend.

Two charter members, Mrs. Sayre and Mrs. Gloyd, presided at the silver tea and coffee services at a table appointed with tall white tapers set in a crystal holder centered with white mums, baby's breath and a silver '75'.

Slide 'tour' of Sweden shown at Home Arts Club

The Home Arts Club opened its 1971-72 club season Monday evening at North Junior High School. Program chairman Mildred Baker introduced the guest for the evening, Glen Reinhardt, a 1971 Belleville High graduate who spent nine and a half weeks in Europe this summer.

Under the auspices of Youth for Understanding, Glenn was the 'adopted son' of a Swedish family who introduced their 'son' to Sweden through various tours, fishing trips, and outings. They also planned trips into Finland and Germany during his stay.

Through the use of his Kodak instamatic, Glenn was able to take club members on a colorful slide 'replay' of his summer venture.

president Lee Smith, presented her fellow-officers: Dorothy Florian, vice-president; Kathy Miller, recording secretary; Bev Sparrow, corresponding secretary; and Sharon Richendollar, treasurer.

During roll call, 28 members responded and four guests were introduced: Elaine Gutierrez, Audrey Tabor, Bev Farrer, and Ginnie Kohr.

Barbara Forsythe volunteered to fill the vacancy on the program committee joining chairman Mildred Baker, Joy Hill and Sharon Matthews who are planning on Italian - theme smorgasbord for October. Members are asked to bring their recipe and table service along with a dish for the annual dinner which will be held at 6:30 p.m. October 11.

The committee also suggested that members begin gathering and pressing flowers and weeds for the November meeting which will feature a handicrafts evening.

Following adjournment refreshments prepared by Lucille Bravatto, Charlotte Budd, Barbara Forsythe, Doreen Craven, Eula Haft, and Carol Fitch were served.

YOU'RE OLD ENOUGH NOW.
LET'S TALK ABOUT YOUR BODY.

About some very obvious things even your mother hasn't figured out. Your left leg. Your right leg. They bend you see. When legs bend, pantyhose have to stretch. And if the yarn doesn't spring back to its original shape when the bending's over, a sag happens. You don't have to live with that. Because, for just $1.25 a pair, you can get pantyhose that do what your legs are doing. Sheer-to-the-waist Scantyhose. Made not with ordinary yarn, but with two-way stretch nylon. That remembers the shape of your legs and springs back for perfect comfort and fit. Tell your mother, which will prove to her, for once and for all, that you know something.

Candlelight ceremony unites Bohms-Antonini

Candlelight formed the setting August 28 for the seven o'clock nuptials which united Kathryn M. Antonini and Richard W. Bohms in holy matrimony. The altar of the First United Presbyterian Church, Ypsilanti, was appointed with baskets of white gladiolas and carnations tied with red bows. White bows and red and white candy striped carnations marked the pews and candles.

Bellevillites, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Antonini of 2825 N. Denton Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd D. Bohms of 4725 N. Denton Road, are parents of the young couple.

The Rev. Laurence N. Woodruff officiated the double ring rite with Mrs. Herbert O. Fry as organist and Mrs. Martin Baltzell as soloist. Her numbers were "One Hand, One Heart" and "The Wedding Prayer."

FOR HER WEDDING day, the bride chose a gown of rose petal lace over white taffeta styled with short, puffed sleeves on the high-rise bodice and a lace panel falling from the shoulders to form a circular chapel train.

A crescent of white flowers held her elbow-length veil of silk illusion and she carried cascading white carnations and baby's breath.

Appearing in gowns similar to the bride's with bodices of white lace over red taffeta and skirts of white lace over white taffeta were the matron of honor, Mrs. Gary Turpen of Ypsilanti; and bridesmaids, Mrs. Dennis Ladd of Ypsilanti; Mrs. Richard Oster of Belleville; and Nancy Nieland of Ann Arbor.

The dresses, made by the bride's sister, Mrs. Tom Ballard, and the bridegroom's sister, Nancy Bohms, were accessorized by lace tiaras and colonial bouquets of candy-striped carnations and baby's breath tied with red streamers.

BEST MAN was the bridegroom's cousin, Ronald Campbell of Belleville. The Fall bride-elect honored at showers

JANELLE BURHOP, who will be an October bride, was the honored guest at two recent showers. The first was given Thursday, September 10, by Mrs. Keenan Elkins and Mrs. Thomas Marks at the latter's home on W. Huron River Drive. Some 16 guests, mostly former classmates from Belleville High, showered Janelle with scads of pretty items for her trousseau. Assisting as the bride-to-be unwrapped her gifts were two of her future attendants, Cathy Stabnau and Mrs. Elkins (the former Joanne Marks.)

Wine cocktails and several bridal-theme games were also part of the evening which included a buffet lunch served amid burnt orange and avocado decorations — the motif of the wedding.

A FEW DAYS later, on Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Duane Ross, Mrs. Roy Stabnau and Cathy Stabnau entertained at a miscellaneous event with 60 guests attending from Detroit, Farmington, Flint, and nearby cities.

The wedding colors, white bells, and a decorated parasol added festive touches as the group enjoyed socializing during several games, a buffet style lunch, and the opening of gifts. Serving as focal point at the dining room table was a three-tiered cake topped with a cluster of fresh autumn-colored zinnias, baby mums and baby's breath. The work of Mrs. Albert Riggs of Belleville.

Helping with the ribbons and wrappings as the gifts were displayed were another of Janelle's attendants, Debbie Wegela, and also Lisa Ross, Sheila and Suzanne Stabnau, and Janice Harris.

St. John's Catholic Church in Ypsilanti has been reserved for Janelle's October 16 marriage to Dennis Lee Sears of Ypsilanti.

University of Wyoming students wed in Nebraska

Bradley Jay Warrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Warrick of Belleville, took as his bride Saturday, September 4, Peggy Lea Ahlschwede, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ahlschwede of Gurley, Nebraska.

Both students at the University of Wyoming, the young couple exchanged double ring vows in a ten o'clock ceremony at the Grace Lutheran Church in Gurley with some 112 guests in attendance.

The altar was adorned with a bouquet of yellow-gold carnations with two candelabras entwined with matching carnations and greenery at either side of the chancel. Accolyte for the service was the bride's brother, Ronald.

Mrs. Kenneth McRoberts of Dalton was at the organ to accompany Mrs. Ray Kuehn as she sang "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee" and "The Wedding Prayer."

ESCORTED to the altar by her father, the bride was gowned in angelskin peau de soie enhanced with medallion lace trim on the high neckline, Camelot sleeves and wide cuffs. Complementing the A-line silhouette was a floor-length mantilla edged with medallion lace and caught to a taffeta bow.

A five-point star bouquet of pixie carnations, gold sweetheart roses and stephanotis completed her ensemble.

Mary Jane Elsen as maid of honor donned a gold A-line gown of taffeta covered with chiffon. Fashioned with an empire waistline, the bodice featured a high neckline and full-length, puffed sleeves cuffed at the wrist. Her headress was a taffeta-covered chignon bow similar to the bride's and her bouquet was comprised of gold pom pom mums.

Wearing identical deep mint green fashions were the two bridesmaids, Jacie Latrell of Cheyenne, Wyoming and Lynette Lessig of Gurley.

Mahalak satisfied with state school aid bill

State Representative Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus) said Monday the state school aid bill passed by the legislature and sent to the governor is an equitable one with safeguards for the local schools in his district.

The record school aid bill totals $1.051 billion, the first school aid bill ever to exceed $1 billion.

"There had to be compromises and some cutbacks in certain areas in order to get the bill through both the House and Senate. I am satisfied in the final product. It provides our own schools and others throughout the state with as much state aid as possible within the restrictions of available state revenues," Mahalak said.

"The record appropriations would not have been possible without the recently enacted increase in the state income tax. Approximately one-third of the increased revenue from the higher income tax will be used for schools," he said.

Representative Mahalak was appointed to a special advisory committee which worked with the conference committee on the K-12 school aid bill. The committee was the result of an unusual arrangement between leaders of both parties in which each will appoint an advisory committee to assist in working on the bill.

The special advisory committee said the K-12 appropriations bill was one of the most important budget bills considered by the legislature. Because of the unusual circumstances of the bill this year and due to the necessity of having this bill passed as soon as possible, these advisory committees were of tremendous assistance in working out the important details involved in the bill.

The bill had to be cut by $23 million to hold the expenditures to estimated state revenues for the year. Those reductions, recommended by a special House Senate conference committee named to work out differences between the two chambers, included $11 million from state contributions to teacher retirement systems, $4 million from vocational education, $3 million from the basic school aid formula, $2 million from a grandfather section which protects school districts from cutbacks below present levels of aid, $2 million from special and compensatory education and $1 million from general and vocational transportation aid.

Removed from the bill was the Senate-approved ban on new vocational education programs.

"There were many amendments and much argument during the joint conference meetings," Mahalak said. "There were those who objected to any compromise and voted against it because they did not like some of the features. This, of course, is their right."

"Every effort was made to make the school and bill fair and adequate. The school districts needed to know how much and what type of state aid they can expect for next school year so that they can make plans for the year," he stated.

"A number of legislators have complained of inadequacies. I cannot agree with this. It does as much as the state if financially able to do. I am especially pleased because it takes steps to relieve the financially pressed schools in the 38th district," Mahalak said.

The schools in the 38th district will receive the following increases per child.

PER PUPIL AID SCHOOL

Romulus, 218.69, 1.12
Van Buren, 229.64, 18.37,

Summerfield, 405.34, 35.06
Milan, 330.71, 17.97
Ida, 420.39, 36.72.

One important amendment would provide additional assistance to school district which have had to receive all or part of the students from dissolved districts. This would furnish badly needed aid for the schools which have had to absorb pupils from the former Sumpter district. These figures are furnished by the Department of Education. They are for 1971-72 school year: Huron, $59,000; Van Buren, $60,000; and Airport, $90,000.

The district which took over the responsibilities of the Sumpter School already carry some of the heaviest tax burdens in the state.

So far the Huron School District has received $118,000, the Van Buren School District $120,000, and the Airport School District $180,000. This program will in the near future be phased out.

"I personally felt the bill was a fair one. It was necessary to take action because time was running short," Mahalak said.

Board tables requests for liquor licenses

Three of eight Van Buren Township residents who have filed applications with the township administration for Class C licenses (liquor by the glass) made their formal presentations before the township board last week.

The Michigan Liquor Control Commission has allotted three additional 1971 Class C Licenses to the township. The distribution of the licenses by the state is based on population.

The township's population has increased from 9,509 in 1960 to 13,162 in 1970, according to the U.S. Census, resulting in the additional allotment of Class C licenses.

The township currently has six Class C Licenses, Mrs. Erma Jean Payne, township clerk, reported.

who appeared before the township board were Louis A. Toth of 44119 Harmony Lane, Alfred A. Chudzinski Jr. of 41651 Savage Rd. and Larry H. Krantz of 12300 Lake Pointe Pass.

Toth told the board he requested a Class C license for use at 51301 W. Huron River Dr. He added that the piece of property is available for business and would not be offensive to the neighborhood.

Krantz gave the township board two alternative sites, both located on Belleville Road on either side of the I-94 Expressway.

Chudzinski told the board he planned to erect a diner-type business with the license to be located on Sumpter Road near Belleville Road. He added the proposed restaurant would be opened most often during the evening hours.

The three applications were tabled by the board. Trustee Joseph Hogan moved a letter be sent to all applicants requesting letters detailing the proposed types of accommodations and locations. He was supported by Trustee Mrs. Pat Cullin. The board approved the motion unanimously.

Proposed drug program explained at meeting

Area school, governmental and civic leadership met at the Romulus City Hall last Wednesday morning to hear Earl Lamb, chairman for the Romulus Drug Abuse Council, explain preliminary steps taken by the council to achieve an area program against drug abuses.

The meeting, conducted by Dr. E.A. Goerke, M.D., vice chairman, began with introductory statements, presentation and welcomes from Romulus officials Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael and Robert L. McConeghy, superintendent of schools.

Lamb explained a proposed prevention, treatment and restoration plan that has been submitted from funding to the Wayne County Board of Mental Health through Public Act 54.

The drug council came about as a result of concerns about drug abuses voiced by PTA and community representatives a year ago. Subsequently, a 20-member council was formed through the mayor's office that has met regularly during the summer to prepare a comprehensive area-wide education, treatment and rehabilitation program that will also offer worthwhile alternatives to drugs.

Representatives of the county-designated sending area Belleville, Huron, Sumpter, Van Buren and Taylor, were given an opportunity to respond to the proposed program and describe their community's programs.

Cpl. Robert Robinson of Taylor described an awareness program initiated two years ago through Taylor schools that is aimed at parents as well as students. Taylor has no treatment or rehabilitation program, Robinson said.

Byron Antcliff, superintendent of Huron schools, described his district's efforts at providing week-end recreation, jobs and other alternatives for Huron youth.

Dale Kaulitz and Ray Kohr of the Van Buren school district described in-service teacher training programs that made information available through the high school, plus a preventative education program in the elementary grades.

Mrs. Pat Cullen and Mrs. Imogene Pence of Van Buren Township offices expressed concern about drug abuse problems stating there was no municipal program in effect.

Police Sgt. Jerry Cox from Sumpter said his area, although involved in drug identification, has no formal education or rehabilitation program.

Frank McDonnell, head of alcoholic rehabilitation at Annapolis Hospital, cited social acceptance of intoxication as a factor in drug abuses. He hoped for total community involvement in a comprehensive approach that would deal with prevention (education), treatment and restoration (counseling and alternatives).

MacDonnell cautioned against "band aid" efforts. He urged the troupe to work together to expand on the program and to committee its efforts.

Mickey Reel, Romulus businessman and member of the committee, asked that each representative take the program back to the unit represented and be prepared to make a commitment at a later date.

Lamb announced an adult drug education class that is to be presented in cooperation with PTA groups beginning Monday, Sept. 27, at 7:30 p.m. at the high school.

The classes will meet on Mondays and Wednesdays with instructor Robert Brock for 8 weeks.

The course, Lamb said, will cover a full description and discussion of the common drugs, prescription and non-prescription as well as those sold illegally the causes and effects of drugs abuse and the parents' role in all phases, including treatment.

Another area-wide meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 29, at 9 a.m. at the Romulus City Hall.

Haggerty PTO sets meeting

The Parent-Teacher Organization (PTO) of the Haggerty Road Elementary School will hold their first meeting of the new school year at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow (Thursday) at the school.

New officers will be introduced and plans will be made for the pancake supper. All parents are urged to attend.

The school district purchased the former W. E. Hennells plant for $175,000 and spent additional funds renovating the buildings on the site.

Governor sends letter to conservation group

A letter of appreciation was sent to the Huron Valley Conservation Association of Belleville by Gov. William G. Milliken for the association's offer of assistance in supporting legislation prohibiting the discharge of "sea cock filler" in the waters of Michigan by Great Lakes freighters.

This discharge occurs annually during spring clean-out of pipes on board the freighters.

Gov. Milliken pointed out this act is unlawful under terms of Act 167, Public Acts of 1970, Section 3 (2).

"Michigan temporarily has been restrained from enforcing the provisions of this law," the Governor said. "This restraint was brought about through an action brought by the Lake Carriers Association of Cleveland, Ohio, in Federal District Court in Detroit."

According to the Governor's report, testimony was heard by a three-judge panel. A decision is expected in the very near future.

Gov. Milliken explained that the Ford Motor Co., a member of the Lake Carrier's Association, did not join in the suit against the state. Rather, Ford installed sewage retention systems on its six Great Lakes vessels and is operating in full compliance with Act 167.

The Governor's letter was in response to action initiated by the Huron Valley Conservation Association under the chairmanship of Rodney Bly.

Busing rally attracts handful

Several thousand flyers circulated in Romulus this week advertising a public rally about school busing to be held Sunday at Kennedy Park failed to attract more than a handful of curious citizens.

The rally, sponsored by the National Youth Alliance of Centerline, according to handbills, asked for support for "the brave mothers of Pontiac in their fight against federal imposed tyranny." The flyer promised the rally would reveal, "real facts behind the busing controversy", and offered information about "what you can do to smash busing."

Patrick Tifer, 24, who claims a bachelor of science degree from Wayne State University, met with local supporters at the VFW Hall prior to the rally. He claims a National Youth Alliance membership locally of 102nd state membership of about 200.

Flanked by a khaki and black clad color guard of five men and women, Tifer spoke from a rostrum backed by red, white and blue bunting taped to a chain link fence. His own khaki uniform bore a flag emblem over the breast pocket, as did those of the color guard.

Tifer spoke sincerely, touching on emotional issues of "White Rights" and enforced busing, which he predicts will see students from Westland, Romulus and Garden City exchanged with students from high crime areas in Detroit.

He cautioned against too much confidence in local boards and the "crooks on the federal bench." His main points drew applause from the group.

A publication called White Power, said to be the official newsletter of the American White Nationalist Party, was circulated among some long-haired youth who have spent an idyllic summer in the park and consider it theirs. "Man, look at this," said one, "They're trying to make trouble in our town."

Belleville trio named 'outstanding' citizens

The Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce has announced that its three nominations for inclusion in the 1971 edition of Outstanding Young Men of America have been accepted.

Theodore H. Kuckelman, executive director of the chamber reported he has received word of the selection from Doug Blankenship, chairman of the Board of Advisory Editors, Outstanding Young Men of America.

The three Belleville area residents whose nominations were selected are:

James F. Richendollar, 508 Columbia Ave., principal of North Junior High School.

Samuel LoPresto, 41529 Willow Run Expressway, principal of the Edgemont Elementary School.

And Larry L. Boelter, owner of the Boelter's Welding Co., 41227 Expressway, who is also a member of the chamber's board of directors.

JAMES F. RICHENDOLLAR

SAMUEL LOPRESTO

The trio were chosen for the annual awards volume in recognition of their professional and community leadership.

"These young men are truly outstanding because they have distinguished themselves in one or more aspects of community and professional life," said Blankenship.

The publication date of the 1971 edition is November.

New cleaner is phosphate-free

The battle for better ecology received another welcome boost from Solventol, Romulus based plant, with their introduction of a biodegradable liquid floor cleaner.

The formulation contains no phosphates, using instead a concentrated blend of non-ionic solvents especially effective for penetrating soil, oil and grease.

Named "Non-Phosphate Liquid Floor Cleaner", the readily soluble concentrate is designed as the ideal cleaner in either mechanical scrubbing machines or handmopping of concrete and is free-rinsing. Yet, the floor cleaner meets or exceeds local government standards pertaining to water pollution and waste disposal.

Although it has not been completely proven that elimination of phosphates will restore the former ecological balance, Solventol's research technicians are searching for ways to eliminate all of the phosphate content of the detergents which they produce. To this end, they have developed more than 75 separate detergents for various cleaning operations, specifically formulated to meet local restrictions regarding water pollution and waste disposal. "Non-Phosphate Liquid Floor Cleaner" is one of the most recent products to be introduced in this continuing effort.

Information concerning all products and services are available from Solventol Chemical Products, Inc., 13177 Huron River Dr.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

Reasonably minded people must surely admit we have a crisis of authority in America today. Federal, State, Police, School, Religious authority—just to name a few—are all under attack. Never before in American history has there been such insatiable avarice and scorn for authority. Principles of law are being abandoned in rebellion against God's will for tranquility.

All of us had better wake up to the fact that stability of government is weakened when legal rights are sacrificed to whimsical disobedience. No nation can survive when authority is flaunted. When authority is misused—and it sometimes has been—we have legal ways to change authorities. We have lawful ways to restrain, expand and enforce authority. The Constitution and the Bible are the authority by which ALL of us must live. God help us if we don't! ...

Antique show begins today

Antiques are for men, and men really take their antiquing seriously, according to several exhibitors in the Detroit Fall Antique Show-Sale in the Light Guard Armory, which begins today (Wednesday) and runs through Sunday.

Far from the stereotype of the husband who tolerates antiques as one of his wife's whims, men often become more knowledgeable than the distaff members of their household, especially when a particular category of antique becomes their collecting specialty.

Men will find an abundance of their favorite antiques in the 150-exhibit Detroit Fall Antique Show which will fill two floors of the Light Guard Armory with its glittering displays.

Whatever the category or price range desired, there really is something for everyone at the show.

Qualified appraisers will appraise items brought in by show visitors for $1 per article. A clock specialist will service music boxes and antique clocks at the show. Minor repairs and adjustments can be made on-the-spot, while the more complicated repairs can be done at his shop, all at a reasonable charge.

Free parking for show visitors is provided on the grounds. Hours of the Detroit Fall Antique Show-Sale, are from 1 to 11 p.m. daily, except on the final day, Sunday, Sept. 26, when it is open from 1 to 9 p.m.

Winner picked

The winner of the second safety savings bond at the Webb Forging Co., 12645 Haggerty Rd., Belleville, was announced by Frank Bray, plant safety director.

The winner is Victor H. Shukait, 19, of 1058 Sarah Dr., Pinckney. He received a $50 savings bond for safety operations in the plant during the 20-day period covered in the safety program.

The firm has initiated a safety program in which employees vie for the savings bond prize for every 20 consecutive days free of accidents. The plant's 150 employees are participants.

The name of the winner is selected by drawing.

teeth at a much earlier age than do non-smokers? . . . Contrary to popular opinion, it's known Wyatt Earp only killed one man in his entire lifetime . . . If the price of gold drops to $27, I'm informed, the $1 bill actually will be worth its weight in gold.

Still unsettled is that matter of which refrigerator leftovers make the best midnight snacks. Ballots are now in for cold chicken, rice pudding and artichokes with mayonnaise. I vote for spareribs with Chinese mustard, Polish sausage with Mexican peppers, a little Virginia ham, some blackeyed peas, cucumbers and onions in vinegar, a half a raw potato well-salted, and a glass of buttermilk with a dash of lemon pepper, all together.

Customer service: Q. "Is Jane Russell still on Howard Hughes' payroll?" A. As far as I know. In 1955, she signed a 20-year contract for $50,000 a year, reportedly. Believe she's still collecting it . . . Q. "What state is Hell in?" A. The town? That's in Norway. Q.

"Where can I write to hire a guide to hunt reindeer in Alaska?" A. Nobody hunts reindeer. Up there, that's livestock, not big game.

That turkish sultan named
Mah Moud II of
Constantinople was weird.
One day five centuries ago, he ordered the makers of women's dressing gowns to remove all the stitches from said costumes, then seal the seams instead with glue. On ladies' day in Constantinople's great turkish bath, Mah Moud II enconced himself in a hidden cubbyhole overlooking the whole shebang. He waited.
Gown by gown, the hot steam dissolved the glue. Mah Moud
II took notes, then issued orders to recruit for his harem, the rascal.

Am asked why baseball umpires always look smaller than baseball players. An optical illusion, that. The umpires wear dark clothing, usually, the players light. Put them in business suits, they look about the same.

The new wears of everything, what? The TV audience that watched David Scott and James Erwin walk on the moon was only a third the size of the TV audience that watched Neil Armstrong make his giant step.

Never can tell what will explode. Freshly mined diamonds have done so. With considerable violence, too. So have elephant tusks when suddenly chomped. And several stereos full of dried milk.
